Bankers Express No Concern and Point to Prevailing Rates as Better Indication of True State of Fi nancial Affairs-The Weekly Bank Statement Criticised in Wall Street

New York, Feb. II.—There was no trace in the stock market to-day of the heistnation and weakness in prices shown in the closing days of last week. From the outset certain stocks were particularly strong, and this broadened finally into a general movement on the part of speculators to recover holdings previously sold for both accounts.

Preliminarily to-day the market was under the influence of the poor bank statement made on Saturday. On the stocks were provided in the stock of the

It is getting to be recognized in Wall street, however, that the weekly bank statement is exhibiting Paople's Gas. the weekly bank statement is exhloring the condition of only half the financial institutions in the city, and is often a very misleading document in a financial sense; so that while the statement is still each week of great interest, it is by no means regarded as possessing the same relative degree of importance it once did.

Strong hopes of an increased dividend upon American Sugar Refining and common stock seem to be entertained, while the prosperity of the copper mining trade is still the one abundant reason of a rising market for the stock of the Anaconda Mining Company. It is accepted generally as a fair presumption that a further enlargement of the Anaconda dividend rate will be made. In the latter part of the day, as described, all the principal stocks joined in this advance, closing prices being as a rule at the lighest, with caller of the stock of the Anaconda. No doubt the chief impulse for the rise in the market to-day was offered by the news from Washington, announced during the morning, that the Secretary of the Treasury had offered to buy $25,000,000 States government bonds:
